

Video Diplomat Corps!

Project Title	Video Diplomat Corps!
Project Summary	Do you like creating videos? Do you have a knack for storytelling? TechCamp is a program that brings digital tools to populations overseas to solve big policy challenges all over the world. We're looking for someone who is passionate about digital storytelling & wants to make a global impact.
Country	United States
Country/Region of Focus	Global

Project Description

You will be part of the team that's encouraging people all over the world to use digital tools to improve the work that they are doing in their communities. Whether it's getting youth out to the polls in Ghana, combatting extremist views in Thailand, or counteracting illegal mining in Peru we need you to tell a story.

You will be the digital video expert on our team & will work to take compelling content & interviews from the events we have around the world and tell a story about the impact of lives that are affected every day by our programming. We're open to creative ideas, and we would love for you to take the video we already have as well as create your own videos to tell a story. If you are interested in marketing, creative storytelling, or video production then this internship is for you!
